I've got an EVGA 6600GT PCI-E and I've never had any troubles of any kind with it. Maybe it's remnents of your old drivers? I know it's probably not too plausible, but given your current line of work, perhaps you should save up and buy a new computer part by part. I managed to save up about 800$ on a part time job in a month or two. You won't regret it.