You sound alright for CRC my friend.

We're pretty easy going, got our own server running 24/7, our own website,forums, and thread on here of course.

We're based on stealth and fast killin, we offer training programms in sniping, stealth, basic infantry, and special opps.

We have a good few members right now, go to www.CRC.myEweb.net and read up on us there, on the front page is the forums, click that and register on there, then read in the joining application section what you need to do, and post what it sais. Then ill check your answers ans get back to you, thank you.
