Ill be getting the Wii, sony and microsoft just dont do it for me. To each his own, thats why they makes different products, to relate to different people.

I own a 360 DS PS2 and all the way down, the nintendo 64 is the only one that has earned its value so far imo. The DS's Metroid Prime game is very good, but we will see if the console will continue with quality.

My 360, i hate. I hate it to the core. Oh great, PD:Zero, ive waited years for this...boot up...10 minutes of play...Crash!

If others dont have this problem, great and if they love the 360, even better.

My PS2 is a dust collector, im just not into the anime/japanese exaggerated swords and physics. There are millions of people that are, so there you go.

I have to say that so far nintendo hasnt let me down on a product. I even love the virtual boy. It all relative and everyone will bash the others. At the end of the day, im just wanting to grab that Wii Remote and play some zelda or mario kart.
