UPDATE: Serial validation is now active on XWIS. If you already have a valid serial, disregard the step above. If not:

-Complete the first step.
-Open server.ini
-Replace the serial with either a client serial or a valid server serial if you can find one. XWIS does not know the difference between client and server serials. Both will work as long as they are valid.

All threads regarding serials in this forum will now be locked and linked to this topic.
