flashes back to an episode of the cartoon

These guys were transporting a captured Plasma Bug in a carrier. Unfortunately, the tranques they used wore off. The thing began to... uh... "take aim," and the plasma bugs on the ground began firing at the carrier...

Commander: Crap! What are we gonna do?

Soldier: I dunno, how about a little "bombing run?"

Commander: No way, this thing's too valuable!

Soldier: You could get a medal...

Commander: ...Time for a bombing run!

Anyway, they dropped the captured bug on top of the other bugs and it set off this trippy-cool blue mushroom cloud.
