Once again, that could only be seen as proof that RELIGION is wrong. RELIGION has nothing to do with GOD, other than it is humanities interpretation of him. It wouldn't matter if every religion ever invented, or that will be invented has gotten it wrong, it does nothing to prove or disprove the existance of God.

God, under the assumption, for arugment's sake, that he exists will continue to exist, even after all religions of the world fail, and everyone turns athiest.
