So what, you think it would be a waste of time to keep innocent players from being banned? Well, that's what you're agreeing to.
I just told them that you were banned from our server for cheating. They know our policy. They didn't ask me for proove. Don't blame us because other server owners accept our policy. Blame the other serevr owner.

Yeah, but you were wrong to tell them, when I was banned for NOT cheating, but for suspected of cheating. You cannot, at any point, really say someone was cheating if you don't even have a clue as to what he was doing that would be considered "above the norm" in skill. ie - doing more damage / etc. etc.

edit: you would be right to tell other servers about cheaters if you had some kind of proof or at least something to go on, but you didn't.

Now if you at least SAW something out of the ordinary and could identify what it was that a cheat would have done, that's entirely a different story. That's why I asked over and over what I did that any person couldn't have done. Of course no answer was given, during the entire length. Maybe it was the fact that I got MVP some of the games, or got most kills, because as we know it's a truely gruesome task to get that in public servers. Really, for the sake of old times, please just tell me what I did that constitutes me be even suspected of cheating? Can you? I'm going to guess not. In fact, I'm going to guess you listened to the GT guy who had no clue what he was talking about and doesn't know how fast another stank would kill another one, which it may have even been 3 shots/4 shots, because it does 90 damage per 2 rockets, and he was repairing it so as soon as I was shooting it, he got back in (so he wasn't at full health obviously). But please, do tell what I did that anyone else couldn't have done just as easily.
