I don't think there is any one at this point that believes RG does any good. Sure there is the whole "good faith" thing but that is pretty much BS. IF 1.04 ever does come out (something I believe will happen less and less every time I come to these forums) I think that the reputation it once had is crushed to nothing. No one will put stock in it and rely on it like they once did regardless of whether it is effective and unbyassable.
