i have had it running now for 10 days and it has yet to crash so the next release will be a stuble release.

i am also considering a GUI but i dont think i will. because it uses too much resources if i do.

!ipban

added extras on plugins.

IRC

and update system where if there is an update avalible it will download and update automaticly. (if allow_update in config.cfg is set to 1)
