Here are a few of my problems with NR(not saying it is a bad bot), but are that the server to IRC lag gets VERY huge at times.. One time a friend of mine said something in game, and timed it, and it had taken over 3 minutes for it to show up IRC. Actually, this is probably my only real "problem", the other thing is that you cannot check to see what player names matche an IP through a command available to moderators who have access to the !ip command.
