As I said, the more you try to dig for a connection, the greater the chance you're going to find one... the thing is, usually they won't coincide.

You claim that the government and other powers at be are monitoring us and trying to control us, yet they've allowed for so many conspiracies to surface? Wouldn't they want to eliminate a threat before it becomes one?

Sure, they couldn't prevent every threat, but you'd certainly think they would cover up the 9/11 Conspiracy, wouldn't you?

They basically did coverup 911. The big press is printing out stories, that don't go hand and hand with what the people really think. This is thier goal, keep throwing shit at you, hey, some of it has to stick. Their fore the short term memmory will be wiped, along with the flouride that you drink in your water daily, and the tooth paste that you brush your teeth with also contributes to your affected consness. Just look up flouride and water. Listen, these people, if they are people, they are smart, they probably know how you think <Satinists, Spirituallity, Scosialogy>. Is there really a gun and liquer store on every block in South Central Los Angeles? That rap music doesn't sound nice. It may sound crazy but lets pretent that you were playing a game of Renegade with me, and you knew how I thought the emotional, geo-political place, social status, all this really narrows things down for you to make dicisions based apon my disisions on what I am going to do. AWWW we now maybe going into a higher or lower level of thought and consness. Knowledge is power. There is a war on for your mind. Think this over for them we must be cattle that are controlled in the directions that they want us to go in.

EDIT: Remember that it is the mind that controls the body the other way around. But then you have neurons.

What "people really think"? Tell that to the people who saw the planes crash into the twin towers. Tell that to family of the passengers of Flight 93. Tell that to those who saw a PLANE hit the Pentagon, not those idiots who claim that they're some aeronautics expert because they didn't think that it sounded like a plane, but a missile.

The fact is, there are no powers at be that can control this people so widesread as you so suggest. It's unreasonable. I'm sure you'll tell me now that iPods use subliminal messaging to for the Illuminati which explains their popularity.

Oh, I know! The sport of football is merely a tool of the Illuminati to forge false loyalties to teams, so that they're more easily controlled!

As I've said numerous times, you can connect anything if you try hard enough. I'm sure I could connect Jesus to actually being a Satanist. I could find a way to make God out to be a 25 legged pink flamingo sitting on a cloud. Conspiracy this; conspiracy that.

Do you not see how ridiculous it is to look at everything as if there's some sinister plot behind it?

There are some "conspiracies" that I DO believe in. Like the JFK assassination, Bobby Kennedy assassination, and rigged national elections... at least, on the small scale, like fudging the votes, not a large-scale, nationwide conspiracy. Some things are unexplained, yes, but not everything.
