Hey Dave, sorry for being such a jerk. It's just your posts came across to me as incredibly arrogant and you're signiture and website etc really struck me as arrogant. I was unable to see past it. I really hate it when I see people like that on forums.

I was just really full of hatrid, and then from there kind of classed you as a completly arrogant tard from a couple of posts I read (just your manner of speaking). From there it just kind of built up. Sorry. You don't seem too bad. But I've been very high strung. Now it's Friday and I'm chilled and I did get the point of both you and Icedogs posts and therefore questioned why I hated you so much. Though the whole company thing is still retarded in my eye. Just study hard at school for a head start (I know it may not be that simple).

I was addressing help-linux on a different matter. He really is a bit of tard though. You can't just ship immigrants away by the dozens and you need to investigate the issue much more deeply. And his coding really does suck (his bot for example).

Sorry Dave though fuck you help-linux (also thrash).
