Subject: Re: Announcing...
Posted by jnz on Mon, 27 Nov 2006 09:35:56 GMT

light wrote on Mon, 27 November 2006 01:11help-linux wrote on Mon, 27 November 2006 12:02it has to be php, the server wont parse php in it otherwise.
CSS doesn't nead to be parsed, it only need to be interpreted by the browser.

If you make the document a .css it should work fine.

Oh, check out OSWD too: http://www.oswd.org/ they have very pretty templates.

you are not getting me, i want to make the values change depending on what php decides to do. if you look at daniels games and sign up to that you will see what i mean.