Let me put this clear: you cheat on public servers = you get banned = I post your ip so other server owners can decide if they ban you or not.

IP-adresses have nothing private: your computer happely sends it along to every site it visits or even to everyone you talk with on irc, ... You demanding me to censor it won't do the job, now if you asked me nicely, I'd prolly be willing to move it to the server owners forum.
