Looking for a bit of a hand. I am trying to get Renegade running on my new Vista laptop.... only game I really want on here.

I run the autorun on the first disc.... the whole UAC thing pops up, and I allow, and then it asks again and I confirm... whatever, then when it is supposed to display the full screen install screen... I get a blue screen stating stop code 0x000000008e (may have on too many or too few zeros... and mentioned igdkmd32.sys I believe this is some sort of a driver issue... not sure though, if anyone has any ides, let me know. Oh by the way, this is wide screen, that wouldn't cause this issue would it?

anyway, thanks for anything you can help me with.
