although, flash was a much better way to go. i just wish i knew actionscript. yeah, mine is in c++.

also, before jumping to comclusions about it being abused, i suggest you wait till you see a feature list. i already know people will try to abuse it.

if your really concerned. the reason i put the server into Sbot (if you have been watching the thread you should knew that). is because i can check for ip addresses, to make sure people arnt in game as well as watching Seye. the connection will be secure, so packet catchers wont work. and there will be a delay, as stated in the thread.
