Doitle, let's go back to bases. Idjit states: "
If people would teach their kid what a pedophile was than they would not have to worry."

he states it as if it's ALWAYS true. That's the stupidity of his post. Not the fact that you should indeed explain your children about it.

That's all I tried to state. OFCOURSE you should explain your children the dangers in this world (staring with the Internet for exemple) but it is naive to think this will solve all crime.
