Posted by CarrierII on Fri, 04 May 2007 18:00:41 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I would recommend that you build your own. You might think "I don't know how to do that" - but consider I learnt how to do it from just two books from my library and the internet, it's not that hard.

As you're UK based, like me, I can recommed;

www.overclockers.co.uk and www.saverstore.com (Who recently redesigned and don't have all thier stock back yet)