JPNOD is right. A high quality PSU makes ALL the diff-er-ence... in the world. That case PSU might be okay though, but that highly depends on which brand the case is. I got lucky enough to get a pretty good power supply with my case a long time ago. But now the fan is extremely noisy and I can't fix it, so I had to swap it finally. However, it did last me a good three years, and it still works... just noisy.
