To be honest, even though there is a wiki with all this stuff in.

Its not out of place for a topic like this to be here, he gets credit for trying to help new players with a topic like this, though a topic like this, could be better presented.

My advice would be to re-do this in notepad first, when you completed, message a mod to ask him to get ready to sticky your topic, make your topic, pm the mod again, he stickys and locks it.

All our posts here, have ruined it to be honest.
