So I was watching xplay today and they were talking about C&C3. Just then, i got this interesting idea.

I pieced this image together for you guys to illustrate my idea.

Question: Why the heck hasn't EA made a C&C on the DS? If they did would you play it?

In my opinion the DS is the perfect platform for a C&C game. It wouldn't even need amazing graphics. I just used graphics from red alert for the pc and I think it looks bitch'n. (Yes the hud is from C&C3, the RA one is sooo blah..). Plus, since the DS has wifi there is a possibility for ad-hoc games and full infrastructure modes.

Thoughts?
