ddermmm

governments are employees of the people, not the other way around It's mentality like his that makes government as powerful as it is. He just continues to further my accusation of him being a tool.

Interesting thing. One of the reasons The Second Amendment was inserted the American Constitution (Right to bear arms) by the Founding Fathers was so that people could resist the government, and military. Historians even posit that the Founding Fathers assumed America would undergo an armed civil revolution every 20-30 years, in order to keep the government afraid of it's citizens, and therefore, elected officials would govern with the country in mind.

The government is supposed to work for YOU. Not the other way around.
