scarabguy wrote on Sat, 08 September 2007 18:34i was on jelly server map-pack, Cairo.... we had no hand, they had lost one of their pp and a agt, we lost an obby and our hon.

we came up with a plan: I was in a flame, my allies had 3 stanks.

i went right, trying to go around the ruins and through the passage through the tib field and around by their tib ref and silo. I got to the ruins, came round the wall, found a pic Sidney. she shot me ONCE and I instantly lost my 400 armor. then an orca and a ramjet sniper showed up and killed me... i tried to tell the moderators that that person cheated, but he just yelled at me "shut up and play, we have a bot, they can't cheat!" i was so mad, but when i posted on line i just got shouted at even more! "a sniper and an orca were shooting you too, they cant have cheated, ect."

my thoughts:

one: the sniper, if he was a ramjet, would only score 5 of my armor two: the orca wasn't there till later three: why didn't i see the blue tracker from the ramjet or the orcas rockets/bullets?

Conclusion: bad server, bad admin, bad mods, cheaters get away!

and now im gonna get yelled at by that mod if he uses these forums...

Thanks for speaking up...that server is a cheater's paradise. It's despicable/frustrating to see these idiots get away unscathed.
