This build is the same one that over 15 beta testers have been running for over 2 weeks now without a single problem. I would love to know how it could have been beta tested any more thoroughly than that   Now get back under your rock mr c c _ren and play with your marbles, since that seems to be all your good at.

By the looks of those errors you were using a database from a 1.51 build, then installed 1.43 over the top of that and tried to update back to 1.52, which the database updater simply cannot handle.
