It's said God made us in his image, right? Well humanity is friggin' lazy as hell.

So God created the Earth, but then he got bored, so he has us on some 'set-it-and-forget' scheme where we evolve, think for ourselves, etc. Humans love that kind of stuff, where we don't have to micromanage everything. So why should God?

I love my theory, because it ties in creationism, and evolution, which both have quite a few similarities.

Uhh, we were created in His image. God is a spirit. Our spirit is made in that image, not the laziness.
