Quite honestly, the argument that "people are gonna have sex, so we should just get them to wear their plastic" is ridiculous. We're perfectly capable of keeping our zippers up. [b]Hell, I've been doing it for the last 21 years.[b]

Obviously....

I thin that around 16 isn't a bad age, if both the boy and the girl really want it. Waiting till marage is oldfashioned and pretty useless I'd say...

I think that if a boy and a girl really love each other they'll just start experimenting anyway, and eventually "do it".
