Granted, I can see why you would call it cheating, but you're not using a program which is defined to do a certain task, such as the Clickbots. Mr. Aircraftkiller has still shown no proof that such a program exists for the wallhack he's been claiming to exist.

You still haven't answered my question. Lets say there was a glitch in Renegade that made the hit zones incredably larger, and gave whoever could succesfully exploit it a GREAT advantage, making nearly all of his shots toward an enemy head shots, and he used it. In your opinion, is/was he cheating?
