Quote:Yes, but the server end is running a script/program that makes it possible, just like XWIS.

True, I misunderstood what he meant.

Quote:The WOL clone you're using has to be some form of a script/program.

I'm not in charge of the server, SyS is. I'm only the website manager...

Quote:It;s a program where you enter a IP address which connects to the servers, allowing you to join a lobby.

 The program used to connect is not ours its XWISC, the old program that let you connect to XWIS before EA supported them. And if you type in the IP of our servers you can use the entire AWOS network, not just one lobby.
