@sadukar09: As you can read I'm not a hardcore APB player but the rounds I played gave me completely different experiences. A had not a few rounds with destroyed barracks and all players were forced to shoot at the vehicles with rifles. It did no noticable damage to the vehicles. Most times two or three people shot at one tank/apc or whatever. The standard soldiers with their rifles are not a real threat for vehicles. A bit repairing here and there and they can continue killin' helpless players.

Oh overread something in your post sadukar: Okay when their Armor is down but this is nearly impossible with soldiers only and bit repair for the vehicles.
