Dude, over 9,000,000 (9 million) individual people play World of War craft online.

That means just in that game, there are 9,000,000 individual people with internet connections.

Now using an internet petition to get a game mode in another game, you only want 200 people?

Out of that single 9,000,000 people, who would care about a measly 200?
