Anyways, back on Topic.

   My LUA Still gives me aload of rubbish about not being able to load the files correctly. I deleted the .lua file you wanted me to and replaced my existing ones with your updated ones.

   Why is it still bitching me about?

Off-Topic, possibly related.

After seeing my little brother yet again hack.(Not goin into it)
   I have decided to yet again add biatch anti-cheat.
It is a pain as i have to relinquish some of my server modifications like AGT missile +50 damage and Orca/Apache Rocket +50 damage etc.
   But i'd rather that than haxors like my bro get on my server->

So, i use the Renegade Tool Manager. Install Biatch anti-cheat. It asks me if i wanna overwrite my bss32.dll or something like that. I said no for some reason->Maybe that's it.

   Oh and, i also added in my Second version of Objects.gm that has no Biatch conflicting settings in it.

But CATCH!

Now my server crashes and restarts severall minutes after completing its startup tasks!
   It's really ped me off. I wanna test if some of the LUA commands work but cant.

   Oh yeah and the Tool Manager doesn't quite fully install the Biatch. I waited for like 30 mins and nothing happened so i just quit off. Kinda dumb i guess but it by that point i got

cfg log
Msss32.dll (Or something like that)
Biatch.dll

And thats it....
