Well I could use a spell checker. Someone should make one easily acessable like a sidebar icon I could open when i want to post. All though I pride my self on my spell and grammar I may forget at times. Serious someone should make something like this.

But you are exaggerating Aircraftkiller's personality a bit. I mean I have my fair share of dislike for people whose head is 5x bigger then their hand so to speak (I just thought of that now so you wouldn't understand.) Yet this is not the extremes yet.
