Xtrm2Matt until you decided to make RadiantX a "gaming network", RadiantX was going fine. We had perfect Administrators, Pete, Dave, Andy, Myself, Ice and proberly around 3-4 more (just cant remember some). The choice to make it a gaming network was down to you and Blazer. Many disagreed, i had many chats with Pete after and everytime it was "oh no crimson doesnt want... bleh". This whole arguement could proberly all be aimed at the deteration of RadiantX.

Yeah. Right.

You expect us to belive it was her fault that network fell apart?
