Anyway, anyone who says ACK isn't good at what he does obviously doesn't know what he does do. He did alot of things for this game/community then some anime and other kids who do shit all here (but fill servers with shit players) vote to get him banned because of what some people said. If he was still around, you would have seen more maps, more community involvment, and he actual played too (half-decently but still), which is ALOT more than can be said for about 90% of the people here.

yeah me to +80 FPS
