No, I think you'll find that you are the stupid one here.

Obvious reasons include the banner in my signature. I don't have a need to play Renegade anymore, because I prefer Apocalypse Rising and A Path Beyond as well as the Red Alert universe in general.

I stay here because these mods are built from the w3d engine, which Renegade also uses. I generally hang around any forum where a mod on this engine is being developed and since Renegade is basically how we got the engine to mod in the first place, it'd be silly not to stick around.

If everyone who didn't play Renegade left the forums, then you'd lose a fair bit of the community. Not smart methinks.

Don't bother replying to this because I don't care about whatever opinion/insult you have.
