Just think up a different way that is fair, without making it random (as that would make every server get 2 or less players..)

You and I both know that anything that would split up those top a000 servers would NOT be fair in TT developers eye's. You made me chuckle when you said that.

BTW, I'm not saying this because I want to throw a few servers up...I just find it a little bit funny that all these improvements is being made except the server browser a000 issue. Everyone, except the owners of the a000 nicks, wants to see something different. I hope it's fair to say "everyone", if people disagree then I'll take that comment back.
