That's kind of odd considering if you read this topic up until now, what is it like 2/3 or maybe even 3/4 of those who have posted are voting to fix it, but the poll results (currently) have it split 50/50. What does this mean? The people voting to fix it are giving reasons, good ones I may add, whereas the ones voting to leave it are the ones who appear to not know anything.

There's also the fact someone else brought up that probably something like 4/5 of the Renegade community don't come to these forums (no matter what the number, it's an overwhelming majority), and of the 1/5 that does, even less will see and vote in this poll.
