OK, I guess I will reply afterall.

Would you do meth if it was legalized?
Drugs, alchohol and cigarettes are not in my book.

Abortion: for or against it?
The issue is too complex. I would think it is OK to carry out the abortion within 3 weeks of conception.

Do you think the world would fail with a female president?
No, as there are many honorable nations today led by women. But definitely not Palin.

Do you believe in the death penalty?
No. Criminals still kill.

Do you wish marijuana would be legalized already?
No.

Are you for or against premarital sex?
Against due to religious reasons.

Do you believe in God?
Yes, I am Christian. A prophecy was written and Jesus came and fulfilled the prophecy; it could not have been an accident. I would like to talk more about my beliefs but maybe in another thread.

Do you think same sex marriage should be legalized?
Let others do as they will but frankly the marriage concept is pushing it.

Do you think it's wrong that so many Hispanics are illegally moving to the USA?
Yes. But much blame rests on the government too.

A twelve year old girl has a baby, should she keep it?
No, and the baby should be kept under responsible care till it can be safely returned to the mother.

Should the alcohol age be lowered to eighteen?
Yes.

Should the war in Iraq be called off?
We are winning this war. Attacks against our soldiers (and Allied forces) have ceased rapidly and are becoming increasingly rare. I read somewhere that the US military is utilizing a secret "kill-program" that very efficiently targets and kills terrorists and thus disable/disrupt their networks.

Also, each day Iraqis are learning the ropes of the military. Iraqi pilots/soldiers graduate on a routine basis. It may take some more time but I believe (and hope) this war can be over soon before or by 2010.

Assisted suicide is illegal: do you agree?
Yes.

Do you believe in spanking your children?
Yes, but it should be followed up with some sort of verbal lesson too.

Would you burn an American flag for a million dollars?
No way man. I can see how tempting million dollars is but no way I can disrespect the blood of many that was shed carrying that flag into battle.

Who do you think would make a better president? McCain or Obama?
I think both are fine. I dislike Obama's social policies. I dislike McCain's very sharp foreign policy.

My concern is all for foreign policy in this election. I don't like how the world sees us in a negative light. We have to change that. In Obama we stand a chance of having some sort of positive truce with Venezuela, Iran, and Russia but at the same time his over friendliness to these nations should not let them take more advantage of his leniency. He should not be overly planning to "hug" them as he is doing now.

I do not know how he will handle Iran (who are making advanced bomb devices to influence the war in Iraq).

McCain's foreign policy is sound but risks the trend our enemies have gone for the past 5-6 years and maybe another cold war with a resurgent Russia. But he seemed to hint at the last debate that he will walk a fine line.

Are you afraid others will judge you from reading some of your answers?
Won't be bothered. These are only opinions.
