TBH: if you say that whoever plays around with bypasses will get their Renegade serial banned off xwis, that would already be a good signal to some people.

Or better: create an unique TT hash, based on a combination of variables and ban that. Then people would need to change their hardware / OS / ... to get unbanned.