Since last week, I 'updated' (fresh install) my Adobe Photoshop to the latest/newest version possible, Adobe Photoshop CS4 Extended. Due the fresh install, I had to download the DDS Import/Export plugin for Photoshop again, so I could open .DDS files (for skinning purposes). I tried the DDS Plugin from C&C Den:

After installing it, my Photoshop could recognize DDS files as a normal format it could use. But when I try to open any DDS (the existing skins I got, or DDS files exported from always.dat) I get this error:

I thought the DDS plugin could be outdated, so I installed the newest DDS plugin from Nvidia's website. But as again, I still kept receiving the error. Even after a restart of the computer, I kept getting the error

Anyone know a solution? (I want to stay with Photoshop, newest version, and don't want to switch GIMP or Paint Shop Pro, as I'm used to Photoshop)
