Subject: RemoteAdmin bug?
Posted by Genesis2001 on Wed, 14 Jan 2009 02:44:33 GMT

I have a little test server I put up just to test my mods/etc. I have no bot running except for my bot that I'm working with. I noticed that another bot on the server that regulates a completely separate server (different remote admin info (pass & port) than my server) was able to send commands to my server...

The thing that boggled me was that I had "AllowRemoteAdmin" set to 'false' (opposite from which it's defaulted to 'true') :/ How was it able to process those commands and could this be fixed with TT? It's really annoying...To fix it I had to set 'AllowRemoteAdmin = true' and set a random password and port