The old website was a hell of a lot better.

Point to work on:

 Bring back the "Getting Started" Page
 Bring back the Downloads page with all the original items on it (you may have mixed them with your own downloads but having all of them on one page before was awesome)
 Remove the "Filter" links at the side and put them back at the top
 User Files section should be returned, it was an excellent place to put renegade files for people that don't have their own website.

Most Importantly:
Why are all the video's on YouTube now? The quality looks like shit and before they had them at full resolution so you could actually see what the person is doing. Now it's impossible to see or read the buttons the author uses or the delicate usage of vertexes.

Also, Where are the Renegade Models/Textures? All of those stock models/textures submitted by people to use for maps.
