Welcome to Renegade. The game where mod abuse is actually built into the online experience.

But seriously, in my opinion, caps lock rules should only apply to when someone starts posting ONLY in caps. And it is painfully obvious and annoying.

I mean, if someone says something like "OMG!" or "INCOMING LEFT SIDE!" or "REPAIR THE DAMN STRUCTURE!" it should be left alone. But if there is someone who has posted 10 chat messages in a row, all having nothing to do with the game, in caps, then that's when a such a rule should be enforced.

I've said this in other threads as well: Rules are meant to protect people, not punish them. Blindly enforcing a rule without a real reason is a waste of time and authority.
