Bug fixes would be second on my list; this is because I assume the netcode being redone is considered "bug fixing" in this poll.

Then, of course, anti-cheat (it's still important despite what I've said above) and shinies last.

Good points.

I voted for AC first though because I like playing without cheaters in-game.

Resource downloader would be my second on my list.

Then bug fixes.

Even though the graphical improvements in TT are nice, especially with my new computer I just got, I'd rather see less shiny things in-game and more bug fixes and an anti-cheat.
