Sk8rRIMukIf i were to join an army it would be my home country the UK I mean we have such heritage you can't go anywhere around the english coast without bumping in to a old fort or museum where all our past heritage is stored. The United Kingdom used to be much more powerful and strong we discover lots of parts of the globe we were the first people to sail round the world we have the pride (well at least we used to)...

I just like the idea of fighting for queen and country the good old english but alas the days of pride have passed and we now are among the weaker powers of the world...

My pride still lives on so the UK would be my choice (MI5 = kool).

Yeah, proud about the British Empire? How it massacred millions of civilians all over the world and enslaved dozens of countries exploiting the people and the resources? Sure, you are definitely proud of that!

People like you make me sick
