Maybe one day when i get bored enough i shall bless you with some decent skins

If you have no skinning/texturing experience, nor any Photoshop experience. I think it's rather rude to insist there should be better skins released. Maybe on the next competition, you should try and produce an entry. Just to see how easy it is to release a "realistic looking skin" On a 512x512 canvas, then projecting in game on 1680x1050 res screen, and not to mentioned stretched out across a very low poly count model.

Good luck.
