People that block your tank when your trying to retreat, getting it destroyed, then go out of the base and attack the enemy only to get damaged, then get out in the field and get sniped, giving the other team their tank, then start bitching in teamchat that they have no credits and demand donations, so that they can do the same again.

2. People who dont bother to read or ask what the ruels are, and thus break them, so they get kicked, only to come back into the server and/or post on the forums crying mod abuse when the mod was only doing their job, the same kind that go on UNRULES and complain that the mods there do fuck all... which is true, but still, fucking hypocrites.

I agree

Sometimes mods made there mistakes, but they're sorry for that and unlift kick or ban. Actually its friendly-family server, they have to keep it like that. Im half-mod there. (But i agree some of the rules there are way off)
