another reason for people to post pics of there skins their not going to release

anyway, i like the idea

I have to agree with Boof on this one. It would just open the door to more selfish bastards trolling the section with skins they won't release. A lot of the threads will be derailed and locked anyways. you know what i dont get about you people why the fuck are they bastereds? because they created a descent thing for renegade and dont want to share they have the right to not share it if they dont want to Right. But if they're not going to release for others to enjoy, there's no reason to show it off. When you do that, you're basically saying, "Look what I got! And YOU can't have it!"
