I think Renegade (the first one) should be updated etc... before they come out with another. {Example : the ladder is down and that needs to be fixed. Tags? omg fix the problem, I had friend in chat making me think they are in another clan when thats false cuz tags are messed up. Put the bots back up where they used to be. Like [] such in such has been kicked from chat. I thought that was funny.} Seriously, Renegade should be fixed and improved before we go into such stuff for like Renegade 2. Truth is EA doesn't give a shit about any of us, and doesn't give a damn about Renegade. This game might die within 5 months or more. Unless EA gets there asses together (which is a 90 % chance no) and do something. The only way I believe EA will do something is if they are paid to do it. I know they are gettting paid many ways, but EA is a greedy like alot of other companies. So stfu on Renegade 2, chances are it won't happened. And expect $h1T on the horizon.
