It's the biggest community, yes, but this tournament isn't won on the biggest numbers. I'm not saying Jelly players aren't good, I know they're good..but there's tough competition too.

It's not about numbers, look at Jelly's comm war record and you'll see they've lost maybe a few games.

Jelly only got beat twice, cw.cc back when they were active with great players, then non00bs who had some of the best ren players ever
